

Administrative and Regulatory

Parr Brown's team of Utah attorneys provides representation for clients who must interact and comply with local, state, or federal governmental agencies. Our administrative lawyers' experience navigating clients through administrative mazes that involve either legislation or litigation includes environmental permitting and compliance, contaminated site remediation, land use, professional licensing, taxation, occupational health and safety, and public utilities issues, as well as lobbying for and drafting laws and regulations.

Contact A Leading Administrative and Regulatory Attorney

We're looking forward to helping you resolve any aspect of your legal needs. For immediate assistance or more information regarding your administrative law concerns, reach out to any of the experienced regulatory and administrative lawyers shown below today.

Contact An Experienced Utah Attorney