International Litigation Services

Parr Brown's international litigation services include representing numerous foreign clients in US-based litigation and US clients in dispute resolution proceedings (including arbitration, litigation and administrative hearings) in other countries. The Firm's language capabilities and Meritas affiliation are invaluable benefits in cross-border matters. The Firm's attorneys also regularly work under The Hague Convention and other international treaties and conventions regarding international service of process and evidence gathering in foreign jurisdictions.

Utah's International Law Firm Affiliated With Meritas Law Firms Worldwide

Parr Brown is a founding member of Meritas Law Firms Worldwide – an integrated global alliance of more than 180 stringently vetted, independent commercial law firms in over 90 countries and nearly 250 global markets. As Utah's only member law firm, Parr Brown is able to assist clients with legal needs throughout the country and around the world by providing access to high-quality, local law firms at competitive rates.

Client Benefits Created By Our Relationship With Meritas:

A U.S. construction company was awarded contracts in Peru, Mexico, and Italy and needed advice as to the type of entity to set up in each jurisdiction to comply with local laws, protect the U.S. entity from foreign liability, and to minimize in-country taxes. The local Meritas firms in each country advised the U.S. company on each of these issues and assisted in setting up the foreign entities and obtaining all necessary permits and licenses. Parr Brown drafted the necessary inter-company agreements for the U.S. company and its related entities.

A rapidly growing Utah pharmaceutical company wanted to expand on its substantial U.S. sales base and sell internationally. To focus efforts and capital most efficiently, the company desired to first enter foreign markets with shorter and less expensive pharmaceutical regulatory approval processes. Parr Brown contacted Meritasaffiliated firms in the target areas of the world and within a few days was able to provide the client with a table setting forth executive summaries of the regulatory environments, times, and costs for almost 50 countries, and the local firms provided the initial information without charge.

A high-tech client needed to understand the effect under Norwegian, Dutch, Swedish, and Belgian laws of a provision in a licensing agreement proposed by a Dutch partner, and affiliated law firms in each jurisdiction provided the answer within 36 hours without charge to the client.

Affiliated firms have frequently assisted Parr Brown clients by providing contacts with and access to local and national governments and regulatory bodies in foreign countries.
