

Jonathan A. S. Collier

Associate

Jon is a member of the firm's commercial litigation practice group. He earned his J.D. from Stanford Law School in 2019, where he was Senior Editor of the Stanford Law and Policy Review and a member of the Immigrants' Rights Clinic. He participated in the Vis International Commercial Arbitration Moot in Vienna, drafted a set of arbitration procedures for former federal judges, and published an article on the enforceability of arbitration agreements used by nursing homes.

Before law school, Jon received his B.A. from Brigham Young University in International Studies, interned as a legislative assistant to Stuart McMillan of the Scottish Parliament, and served as editor of the Brigham Young University Prelaw Review.

Prior to joining Parr Brown, Jon clerked for The Honorable Dee Benson at the United States District Court for the District of Utah.

CONTACT INFORMATION

Direct: 801.257.7940

Email: jcollier@parrbrown.com

VCard

Connect

PRACTICE AREAS

Commercial Litigation Services

Arbitrations

Construction Litigation

EDUCATION

2019, J.D., Stanford Law School, Senior Editor, Stanford Law and Policy Review

2016, B.A. International Studies, Brigham Young University, Editor, Brigham Young University Prelaw Review

BAR ADMISSIONS

2019, Utah

PROFESSIONAL ACTIVITIES

Utah State Bar Association

Publications and Speaking Engagements:

To Compel or to Invite: The Kindred Decision and the Future of Mandatory Nursing Home Arbitration Agreements
Stanford Law and Policy Review

Euroskepticism's Many Faces
Claremont Undergraduate Research Conference on the EU

CLERKSHIPS

Judicial Clerk, Honorable Dee Benson,
United States District Court, State of Utah

parrbrown.com